2023

Over two decades ago Scott Griffin founded Griffin Glass Tool Company. The mission of this manufacturing company is simple; frameworkequipment designed and produced by a glass artist with a clear understanding of the field it services allows for the creation of functional and adaptable glass working equipment. During the design and manufacturing phases, each tool undergoes extensive quality assurance and quality control before reaching the consumer. To achieve the level of precision that Scott demands he is assisted by a skilled team of engineers and machinists. Our design interests are focused on enhancing the abilities of the modern frameworkequipment through advanced tooling, and helping to create a more efficient and effective work environment.

NEW - THE TAFFY TURNER

The roller is made of anodized aluminum, 2" brass wheels, stainless steel bearings and hardware. The wheels can be set to three different spacing positions in order to accommodate different diameter tubing. The overall length is just over 7" with 5 1/2" of space in between the two sets of wheels. The height of the work piece is 7" off the bench when it is rested on the wheels. The Taffy turner also features a flip up metal D- ring, which will allow the tube end of a work piece to be secured to the roller hands free.

The spacing between the two sets of wheels on the Taffy Turner allows for the soft glass "Crawl" technique. They are unlike other rollers that force you to keep your hand open. Using this "crawl" technique, I can work larger pieces of glass for longer periods of time with minimal fatigue. This tool can easily break down into a much smaller foot print for traveling.

NEW - THREADED GLASS HOLDING TOOLS

Thread holding Tool to hold GL style glass threads. The thread holding portion of this tool is made from a super high grade ultra dense graphite and the tube handle is stainless steel. We have put the tubes through a straightening die in order to assure handle straightness. The ultra high density graphite is absolutely the best material to come into direct contact with the glass threads in order to avoid stress to the thread blank. We have put the graphite through rigorous testing in order to assure longevity of this holding tool. These thread holders are a great solution to holding the threads that will become the cap/ top of a flask or other vessel.

THE BUCK STAND

BUCK TORCH STAND

The Buck Torch Stand is a new and highly specialized tool that will change the way today's modern lampworker operates. From beginners to masters, this tool offers the artist an unrestricted full range of motion around the torch. With its sturdy and slick construction, the Buck Torch Stand gives an artist the reliability and performance that is needed to complete world class glass sculptures of any size and shape. The ease and ergonomics are unmatched. Not only does the Buck Torch Stand promote great lampworking posture, but it gives an artist the angles needed to reduce the weight of their art.

With nothing restricting the space around the artist's torch, an artist will experience positions and angles that were traditionally not thought possible. The idea of working without a flat surface under your torch is new to some artists and can seem risky, but rest assured, the angles and advantages will far outweigh any time lost learning to use this new and innovative tool.

The lift assisted shaft by itself can be securely bolted with concrete anchor bolts to the floor making for sleek space-saving torch placement in your shop or workspace. It can also be attached to our Diamond plated base for traveling or non-permanent setup. The stand attaches easily to our diamond plate base making it mobile and able to be setup just about anywhere. Either way, it eliminates the need for valuable bench space whether in the home shop or at a remote location.

A WORD FROM BUCK...

The development of the Buck Torch Stand was one of natural progression stemming from the need for more space and mobility. I quickly realized the advantages to having full range of motion around my torch.

The Buck Torch Stand is a must have for today's borosilicate furnace worker. It's space and mobility are priceless when juggling the large gathers and long pulls produced by today's methods.

I hope everyone gives this style of lampworking a try- this tool is a game changer. I believe that anyone who works with the BuckTorch Stand will quickly see the endless possibilities and advantages to this amazing tool!

FOOT PEDALS

COMPRESSED AIR FOOTPEDALS

We are pleased to announce the release of the new compressed air footpedals. They are available for both two and three-stage torches that are equipped for compressed air. Introducing compressed air into the fuel mix allows for a broader range of temperatures and chemistry. This added control makes it easier to dial in a more even heat at lower temperatures. It can even help avoid effects such as boiling and scumming while using hard to work colors.

Both pedals are available as a standalone unit, or with mounting brackets to attach to our Rock-It series.

GRIFFIN GLASS ROCK IT '05 FOOT PEDAL

- ◆ The Rock-It is constructed with top quality, high volume valves. You can expect years of trouble free usage with the new long lasting valves.
- ◆ This unit can be run in the open position for unlimited time periods.
- ◆ The pedal is non-electric. Thus opening and closing the gas valves is a technically sound, mechanical operation.
- ◆ The Rock-It has a maintain switch. The maintain switch will keep the outer fire on until switch is depressed a second time allowing freedom of movement.
- ◆ The steel foot pedal body offers durability and a professionally engineered design.
- ◆ The low profile design ensures ease of use and supports appropriate posture.
- ◆ As a safety feature the gas lines are located 4 inches from the floor.
- ◆ The unit acts with immediate response. Both the on and off operations of the torch are instantaneous after the switch is activated.
- ◆ The Rock-It is compatible with all 2 stage and 4 inlet torches including the following: Carlisle, Carlisle Plus, Phantom, Mirage, Delta Elite and most Bethlehem torches. All torches must have four inlets.
- ◆ The Rock-It is warranted for 1 year. This includes all parts and function when the product is used properly according to the manufacturer's information.

All the same great features as our full length economy and counterweighted graphite reamers but these are made with a steeper taper. This steeper taper and shorter graphite reamer length is designed to make it a bit easier to flare most shaped objects without the long point of the reamer bottoming out at the back of a short cup shape or foot for example.

The short line of reamers is also designed to be more durable at the small pointed tip. Since there is less thin material between the widest point of the reamer and the fine 2 mm tip, the reamer point will last longer and withstand more abuse. Thus avoiding tip breakage which is discouraging to the end user as well as us as a proud manufacturer. Our short graphite reamer lengths are 2 1/2" to 3" long.

We put our glass working experience in the driver seat while designing this awesome new line of sculpting tools. We put great emphasis on the sharpened edge on all of these items. The sculpting edge is sharp enough to produce a crisp sharp, carved line, but not so pointed that it will chip or wear easily. The connection point of the graphite and metal is a rigid metal block with two screws and a wider graphite base section for added durability. This adds production process to the tool but makes it much more functional.

GROUND JOINT TOOLS

MALE GROUND JOINT FORMING TOOLS

Make your own male 10-1 joints quickly and easily. First, establish where the back should of your joint will be and gather or thicken that area slightly, pull your tubing to a slight taper then get the whole thing hot and blow into the male forming tool. You'll end up with a perfect taper every time. Make colored joints or joints from lined tubing in just a couple of steps. We chose brass instead of graphite for this product for longevity and consistency of the formed joint shape after multiple uses.

GROUND JOINT HOLDING TOOLS

Our ground joint holders are top notch! We have made the handle out of Stainless Steel, but we have had it textured for more comfortable handling and smoother rotation. The graphite is super high density and made to hold up to harsh working conditions. The sizes we currently offer are 10mm, 12mm, 14mm, and 18mm Male and Female holding tools. (For reference, we named these tools for the glass shape that is being held, not the shape of the graphite on the tool!)

STAINLESS STEEL SHEARS

LARGE DIAMOND SHEARS

This age old design is now available in a size geared to frameworking. The blades of these shears are each shaped with a large V in them. When the shears are closed onto hot, pliable glass, up to 1" in diameter, they form a square, or diamond, around the glass, contacting it in four spots. Squeeze the shears closed a little, and the glass uniformly constricts. Close the shears all the way and the glass is cut clean. These heavy duty large diamond shears have long lasting durability and excellent craftsmanship. They are ideal for cutting and shaping hot glass. Total length is 9.5", blade length is 50mm and blade thickness is 5mm.

JACKS

MAGIC MINI JACKS

Scott's Magic "mini jacks" can be used to ream open the smallest opening using one of the triangle shaped blades and moving in and out of the flame. Use the outward force of the beveled edge jack blades for opening any 2" or smaller tube or encalmo section for a nice, even wall and cup shape. Other great uses for the "mini jacks" are finishing of hollow beads, pendant loops, fine tuning a mouth piece or raised carb, or even opening the constriction on a down stem.

The "Mini jacks" are made of hardened stainless steel. The jacks can be held directly in the flame for a few seconds without damage to the steel. Although the ideal use of the jacks is with the glass in between the tool and the flame and in many cases the shaping is done just out side of the flame.

The dimensions of this awesome tool are 8.5" long and the blades are .5mm at tip to 12mm at widest edge. The flare dimension range is from 1mm to 55mm.

TRUE FLAMEWORKING JACKS

Our true Flameworking Jacks are the first of their kind. We made our jacks with the same trusted heat tempered stainless steel as our popular Mini Jacks. This kind of tempering allows the jack blades to tolerate constant exposure to heat and direct flame as required for this kind of tool. The jack blades are 2.75" long and have a rounded back edge. The tip curves in and comes to a fine point. The blades have been turned 90 degrees from the arms like traditional jacks. The overall length is 11.25" making these jacks truly the right scale for flameworking.

HIGH TEMPERATURE WOVEN TAPE

This is a tightly woven tape with a vermiculite coating. This coating is an insulator for the glass tape and also allows the tape to deal with temperatures as high as 2000F. This is an asbestos free coating. The glass tape itself is non-toxic and when heated to a point of off-gassing, it does not off-gas any toxic fumes. Good for lathe chucks and other metal to glass applications. Sold by the foot, or as an entire roll.
